

Market Commentary: Selling picked up steam, driving the VN-INDEX deep into bearish territory in late afternoon

Throughout the day, the VN-INDEX was under heavy selling pressure from most sectors, closing the session down 20.6pts to 1,502.4pts. Global stocks fell on Wednesday as minutes from the latest Federal Reserve meeting revealed officials' willingness to raise interest rates and prepared to slash the size of swollen balance sheet by US$95bn a month to combat inflation, thus, the index opened cautiously with a slight increase of 1.2pts. The increased selling force in most sectors, particularly in Real Estate, reflects the unfavorable news about numerous enterprises that has been caused by legal entanglements. Despite the fact that the Banking group was able to draw capital, it failed to overcome the selling momentum from the remains, which resulted in the market falling below the support level of 1,510.0pts. The bottom-fishing cash flow was initiated at this point, allowing the VN-INDEX to rebound marginally and cross the threshold of 1,519.0pts in the early afternoon. Later, the panic selling that had been initiated on the mid and small cap groups, as well as the Banking sector, reversed course and caused the market to plummet, pierce support levels and hit the session low of 1,505.0pts before entering the ATC session. The market dropped sharply with a positive market breadth, alongside recovery in the petroleum, fertilizer, and chemical groups after several falls. VCB (-1.9%), VHM (-1.7%), VIC (-1.2%), MSN (-1.8%), and NVL (-2.0%) all showed a positive correlation with the market. MBB (+1.1%), ACB (+1.2%), DGC (+2.9%), DPM (+4.2%), and DCM (+3.9%), on the other hand, were the stocks that had mitigated market's downward. At the end of the session, the VN-INDEX decreased 1.4% to 1,502.4pts, and the HNX-INDEX plunged 1.2% to 441.6pts.

Energy (+0.6%) rose, while Industrials (-2.5%), Consumer Discretionary (-2.0%), and Real Estate (-1.8%) lost ground today. Top index movers included MBB (+1.1%), ACB (+1.2%), DGC (+2.9%), DPM (+4.2%), and DCM (+3.9%). Top index laggards consisted of VCB (-1.9%), VHM (-1.7%), VIC (-1.2%), MSN (-1.8%), and NVL (-2.0%). Top three major put-through transactions were MWG with 3.8m shares (VND640.4bn), CTW with 13.3m shares (VND339.9bn), and IDC with 4.2m shares (VND296.4bn).

Foreigner's net sold on HOSE to the amount of VND445.7bn, and also net sold on HNX to the amount of VND27.2bn. They mainly bought MWG (VND640.4bn), FPT (VND179.9bn), and E1VFN30 (VND117.6bn); and mainly sold MWG (VND640.4bn), FPT (VND179.9bn), and E1VFN30 (VND176.7bn).

House prices in HCM City climb to new highs

Apartment prices rose by 8% QoQ and 27% YoY, while houses went up by 42% YoY. A report from Cushman & Wakefield shows that apartment prices climbed to new heights in Q1. The average selling price of the entire apartment market was US$3,300 per sqm, or VND75.4m, up by 8% QoQ and soaring by 27% YoY. While apartment prices increased sharply, demand was stable with 2,300 products bought in Q1, a decrease of 20% QoQ and 11% YoY. The price increases are attributed to high land prices, higher building material prices, and the long period to fulfill legal procedures. Also, high-end products were launched into the market in large quantities, which pushed average prices up. In addition to the quarterly and yearly escalation in housing prices, the asking price of apartments in HCM City have been climbing to 10-year highs. Regarding supply, Cushman & Wakefield predicted that HCM City may have 10,000 apartments by the end of the year, mostly in large-scale integrated urban areas. Luxury and super-luxury apartments will continue to appear. As many as 315,000 apartments have been supplied since 2004. Housing supply in HCM City mostly comes from suburban areas. Price escalation is also seen in the landed housing market segment in HCM City and neighboring provinces. The report shows that in the first three months of the year, the average selling price in HCM City was US$7,580 per sqm (VND173m), up by 30% QoQ and 42% YoY. The average price increase is attributed to record-high prices of two projects in Thu Duc City. As for neighboring provinces, the average price of ready-built housing was US$2,630 per sqm (VND60m), up by 6% QoQ and 46% YoY. As such, the average price of landed housing in HCM City is three times higher than neighboring provinces. The total supply of landed housing in HCM City and neighboring provinces (Binh Duong, Dong Nai, Long An, Ba Ria-Vung Tau) since 2004 has reached 50,000 products, including 24,500 (49%) in HCM City. Cushman & Wakefield said that the landed house supply in adjacent provinces will be higher than in HCM City as a result of the trend of investments shifting to satellite urban areas where new transport infrastructure is developed. (Vietnamnet.vn)
